

Andover Townsman

By Judy Wakefield jwakefield@andovertownsman.com
Aug 18, 2016

Annmary Connor, former director of the Council on Aging in Amesbury, is the new director of Elder Services in Andover.

Elder Services is a division of the Department of Community Services and operates the Center at Punchard. The division also oversees Senior Connections, transportation and nutrition programs and activities in Andover. Connor starts her job on Sept. 6.

Andover Town Manager Andrew Flanagan said Connor "is considered one of the most dynamic and innovative leaders in the field of municipal elder services."

"She presents the exact set of skills desired for this position and she will be the leader necessary to take the division to the next level," he said.

Connor has held her position in Amesbury for the past six years. Prior to that, she served as the director of Social Services for Lynn's Abbott House Skilled Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center.

"I look forward to Annmary bringing her expertise to Andover," added Director of Community Services Joseph Connelly. "I am confident she will ensure high quality services in Andover and bring vibrancy to the Center at Punchard."

Her professional licensure allows her to supervise graduate students as interns. As a result, she has been successful in developing a comprehensive internship program in Amesbury that has provided a tremendous resource to that city's seniors.

"I am thrilled to joining the team in Andover and look forward to serving the community and our seniors," Connor said in a press release.

Connor holds a Master's Degree in Social Work from New Mexico State University, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in social work from Fitchburg State College.

Annmary Connor, former director of the Council on Aging in Amesbury, is the new director of Elder Services in Andover.

Elder Services is a division of the Department of Community Services and operates the Center at Punchard. The division also oversees Senior Connections, transportation and nutrition programs and activities in Andover. Connor starts her job on Sept. 6.

Andover Town Manager Andrew Flanagan said Connor "is considered one of the most dynamic and innovative leaders in the field of municipal elder services."

"She presents the exact set of skills desired for this position and she will be the leader necessary to take the division to the next level," he said.

Connor has held her position in Amesbury for the past six years. Prior to that, she served as the director of Social Services for Lynn's Abbott House Skilled Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center.

"I look forward to Annmary bringing her expertise to Andover," added Director of Community Services Joseph Connelly. "I am confident she will ensure high quality services in Andover and bring vibrancy to the Center at Punchard."

Her professional licensure allows her to supervise graduate students as interns. As a result, she has been successful in developing a comprehensive internship program in Amesbury that has provided a tremendous resource to that city's seniors.

"I am thrilled to joining the team in Andover and look forward to serving the community and our seniors," Connor said in a press release.

Connor holds a Master's Degree in Social Work from New Mexico State University, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in social work from Fitchburg State College.